"The Ski's the Limit!"

MOVIE NEWS

MGM Cartoon Producer Fred Quimby and his staff have worked out a surprise ending for SENOR DROOPY, new cartoon subject just completed. Gag combines animation with live action and features Lena Roman, Latin beauty. Droopy will be featured in several more cartoon subjects, including OUTFOXED, which is a satire on the sport of fox-hunting. Tex Avery directs the DROOPY cartoons and Fred Quimby produces.

Trio of Tom and Jerry Cartoons have just come off the drawing boards at MGM cartoon studio. Subjects are: HATCH UP YOUR TROUBLES, THE LITTLE ORPHAN and HEAVENLY PUSS. William Hanna and Joseph Barbera co-direct the Tom and Jerry cartoons which Fred Quimby produces.

IT WAS RIPPING

One of the spoiled "takes" in Warner Bros.' Danny Kaye starrer, "Happy Times" was booked as having been caused by "accidental posterior prominence!"

Walter Slezak, wearing tight pants, bowed deeply to Kaye.

Director Henry Koster cried "Cut" at the sound of the r-r-rip!

"IT PAYS TO BE IGNORANT" ON SCREEN

Harry Michalson, President of RKO Pathe, has signed a contract with Herb Polesie, producer of the "It Pays to be Ignorant" radio show, to film this popular air feature with the original cast, as part of the new Screenliner series, which RKO Radio will release. Polesie will serve as producer of the one-reel subject.

LEON ERROL "GOES WESTERN" FOR FIRST TIME

For the first time since he began making two-reel comedies for RKO Radio 15 years ago, Leon Errol will "go western" in one of the two-reelers. Title of the western short subject is "The Cactus Cut-Up," now being directed by Charles E. Roberts.

SOME NOBLE PEOPLE ARE COMEDIANS

Comedians are noble people, too!

For example:

When Benny Baker was hired to portray a crooked town councilman in Danny Kaye's current Warner Bros.' starrer, "Happy Times," he managed to arrange things so that his old friend, Joe Ploski, a Broadway and Hollywood character, got the job as his stand-in.

Later, when Baker got fired for his nefarious activities, Ploski was chosen to portray his successor, mostly, it is suspected, by means of Mr. Baker.

Up to this point, studio citizens, knowing Mr. Baker well, accepted his benign activities as a matter of course. But he added a climax that shocked 'em. Instead of leaving the lot, he stuck around for free to work as Ploski's stand-in!

A CLASSIC FOR RACONTEURS

... as told by Alan Hale on the "Happy Times" set at Warner Bros.

"When John Carroll was an Army PFC in Washington, D. C., he strolled by the White House one day, and met a man who greeted him cordially, and who asked about the welfare of his wife and children.

"Carroll couldn't recall knowing the man. But he knew darn well that he should, so he tried to save face with this counter question:

"And how's your family doing?"

"Quite well," the man replied. "Father is still President."

"Elliott Roosevelt was the greeter. Carroll had met him in Hollywood."

CAN YOU GUESS THESE?

1. The title of what recent picture meant: "Giddy-yap, Whoa?"

2. Clues in this certain mystery thriller were: an oil painting of hands, a sundial with a green ribbon around it, and a watch that stopped. What was the title?

3. Bette Davis was two women in what Warner Bros.' drama?

4. In a stagecoach station scene for Warner Bros.' currently filming adventure epic, circa 1870 in the wild, woolly west, the station agent shouted, "One hour for lunch!" just as it was written in the script.

Why did Director Raoul Walsh have to change the line and make the actor shout it all over again?

INSIDE BRIEFS!!

Sydney (The Fat Man) Greenstreet swears that his role in "Flamingo Road" is his meanest and most strenuous to date. So far, in about four weeks of shooting, he has tossed a drink into the face of Zachary Scott and hurled a telephone at lovely Joan Crawford. Both feats were accomplished from a sitting position. Later on in the drama he'll have to get up and do some walking. . . . Gladys Cooper and Gloria DeHaven have signed new term contracts with MGM. . . . Elsa Lanchester wears a hair-do to end all fancy hair-dos in "Happy Times." Three large and colorful butterflies go fluttering out of her red tresses. "A variation of bats in the belfry," she explained. . . . Dick Haymes has just logged his 650th hour as a pilot. . . . Robert Douglas, the famed London stage star recently lured to Filmiland by a Warner Bros.' contract, is beginning to believe that he came to America to die! In "Adventures of Don Juan," he meets an inglorious end between the point and the hilt of Errol Flynn's trusty sword. In his current starrer, "This Side of the Law," he's to be massacred by a dog! . . . Certain ultra-exclusive markets here are selling champagne frozen into cubes, but nobody seems to know what to do with them. . . . When lovely Jeanne Shepherd arrived at Warner Bros. to be one of Errol Flynn's seven lovely romantic adventures in "Adventures of Don Juan," the license plates on her car, fresh from New Jersey, read: F-U-N-77! . . . George Raft and Sunny Tufts are said to be interested in buying the St. Louis Browns.

WORLD WIDE DEVOTION! Roumania has organized a Bette ("June Bride") Davis fan club—and so has Iran, Iraq, Turkey and Finland. . . . Agnes Moorehead, that irascible spinster in "Johnny Belinda," is going to play Jimmy Stewart's mother in "Monte Stratton." . . . Columbia has drawn up a new seven-year-four-pics-a-year contract with Gene Autry, production to start immediately. . . . Grey-bearded Admiral in Warner Bros. Navy epic, "Task Force," is to be portrayed by Jack Holt, famed outdoor flicker hero of 15 years ago. . . . Paulette Goddard is to be well masked—but definitely—in "A Mask for Lucretia." Her costumes weigh 540 pounds: 12 outfits, 45 pounds each! She will wear them one at a time, of course.

DID YOU GUESS RIGHT?

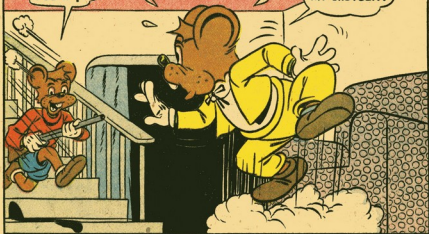

1. Scudda-Hoo, Scudda-Hay."
2. "The Big Clock."
3. "A Stolen Life."
4. Lunch was known as "dinner" in the 1870's.
